Bearcats Lose to Warrensburg In Champ Game

Failing to score until the first eight minutes had passed, the Maryville Bearcats lost a basketball game Friday night to the Warrensburg Mules by the score of 41 to 27 in the Warrensburg gymnasium.

In behalf of the Bearcats it may be said that they had hard luck with their shots, with the ball rolling all around the hoop and bouncing out on many occasions. However, Warrensburg played better basketball and deserved to win.

Keth was the shining light on the Mule's offense, hitting the hoop seven times from all angles of the court for a total of 14 points. Troutwine and Workman were not far behind, with 12 and 11 points respectively. But the performance of these players was greatly overshadowed by the work of Schneider, midjet Mule guard. One of the fastest men in the MIAA, he was the spark plug of the Warrensburg team, by breaking up Bearcat plays and feeding the ball to his taller teammates he kept the Mules constantly in the lead.

Roy Brown, who scored 14 points against the Mules at Maryville, found two or three men surrounding him each time he got the ball. Regardless of this handicap, many of his jump-turn shots missed the hoop by only an inch or two. Wallace Hicks led the Maryville attack with two baskets and a free throw, and was probably the best performer for the Bearcat defense. The Bearcat scoring was evenly divided, with 9 of the 10 players taking part.

This game gave Warrensburg a commanding lead in the race for the MIAA title. An unexpected loss to Cape or Springfield is all that will keep them from reaching this goal.

To Teaching Post

Miss Marion Maloy, Redding, Ia., a senior in the College, has been appointed to teach music and English in the Milford, Ia., schools, according to the Committee on Recommendations.

Miss Maloy, who will receive a B. S. degree in education this summer, will start her new duties Monday.

L. G. Somerville In Narrow Escape

Leslie G. Somerville, of the department of education at the College, had a narrow escape from freezing Saturday night. In company with a Mr. Wiley of Princeton, Mr. Somerville left Princeton for Maryville while it was raining Saturday afternoon. By the time he reached Ravenwood the rain had changed to snow and the wind was piling it in drifts. About four miles west of Ravenwood the car became stalled in a snow drift and the engine went dead.

Delmar Liggett of Albany, was following in his car. In company with Mr. Wiley he started back for help, Mr. Somerville staying in the car. After about two hours had passed Mr. Somerville decided that the snow drifts were probably too much for them and started walking for help.

After walking for about half a mile he became exhausted, unable to work his way through a large drift.

After a few minutes Mr. Liggett and Mr. Wiley came by and rescued him from his unpleasant plight. They turned the car around and started the return trip to Ravenwood, only to become stalled in the snow again. After a walk of half a mile the three found shelter for the night.

This morning Mr. Somerville was none the worse for his experience other than a slight cold.

Press Ball is Star On Social Horizon

With nothing but a blank spot on the social horizon this week at the College, a shining event will illuminate the scene of the next seven days when the knights of the pen meet in the library for their annual Press Ball, Friday night, March 5.

All the festive pulchritude of the school will be on display for the crowning of the Tower Queens, an event which will take place just before the intermission.

With the College Swing Band presiding, the evening promises much of pleasure, according to the sponsors of the occasion.

Pres. Hendricks Discusses Senate Report on Colleges

A very interesting report is made by a Senate Committee of Illinois concerning the five Teachers Colleges in that state. The Senate Committee joined forces with the House Committee and reported very favorably concerning the Teachers Colleges. The problems with which they visited the Teachers Colleges were as follows:

1. Recruitment and retirement policy applied to the faculty.
2. Increase or decrease of future demands for teachers.
3. Desirable extension and possible contraction of educational services.
4. Distribution of graduates in and outside of teaching profession.
5. Comparative per capita costs of the services rendered by Teachers Colleges and similar institutions in and out of Illinois.
6. The best thought for utilizing, say a ten per cent increase of educational appropriations, should the same be made.

WHAT THE COMMITTEE LEARNED

The following facts are reported by the Committee:

1. The five teachers colleges are not more than are necessary for the needs of the state of Illinois. In other words, Illinois is not oversupplied with teacher training institutions, five in number.
2. With the further raising of standards for the teaching profession, more teachers with higher training will be demanded than the teachers colleges can now supply. The raising of certification requirements looks quickly to the time when the master's degree will be required for high school teaching, as the bachelor's degree is

Bearcats Take Second Scalp from Rockhurst

In their last home game of the season the Bearcats easily defeated Rockhurst College 47 to 21 to take their second victory over the Hawks this season.

The first five minutes of the game the play was fast and Rockhurst had a 7 to 6 advantage at the close of that time. However, the Bearcats went on a scoring spree that left little doubt in the minds of the spectators as to who had the better team, and who was to be the victor.

Coming out the second half with a 22 to 9 advantage already piled up, Coach Stalcup substituted freely for the remainder of the game, and every combination he used was able to hold its own with the Hawks.

Late in the second period the Bearcats were leading 39 to 13, when a free scoring spree by both teams ran the final total to 47 to 21.

Five seniors made their last home appearance for the Bearcats and all played a major part of the game. They are: Capt. Roy Brown, who led the scoring with 10 points; Vernon Green, who played center and forward and was one of the leading scorers; John Wright and Norin Meredith at guards and both played good ball. The other member of the Bearcats who will be seen no more in a basketball suit, is Herschel Niel.

vestment its indispensable duty not merely to the teachers colleges but also to the local units in which these teacher-wards of the State go for their life service.

7. It is further recommended that teachers colleges should not be required to buy commodities of the prisons save upon observed specifications, competitive prices, and assured promptness of delivery.

8. It was declared that the honesty, sincerity, devotion to duty, (Continued on page 4)

New Undertaking At Kindergarten

One of Uncle Sam's largest businesses is being learned by children of the Kindergarten School at the College. A visit by the class to the local postoffice so interested the little tots that they wanted one of their own.

The result is that the children constructed a small postoffice out of wooden blocks. Letters can be mailed, packages insured, and stamps obtained. There are also mailboxes for the children to which they go each morning to see what the postman has left for them.

They have postmasters stationed at each window of the postoffice, and the mail can be seen coming into the room at various times of the day in a small delivery truck which bears upon its side the inscription "U. S. Mail."

Mr. Cooper Here

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cooper were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer T. Phillips over the week end. Mr. Cooper, a member of the college faculty, at present on leave, is representative from this district to the state legislature.

The Coopers left early Monday morning for Jefferson City, so as to be on hand for the session of the legislature that day.

Ramblers Capture Intramural Honor

Harris' Rambling Ramblers came through with their seventh consecutive victory of the season to win the school intramural championship. They defeated the Hashslingers for the second time by a score of 18-14 to earn the medals Monday night.

The Hashslingers started the game in a fast style, controlling the ball for the first 3 minutes passing in to take their shots and then bringing the ball back out again. The Potwollopers were able to score the first two buckets of the game before the Ramblers hit for a counter.

The game as a whole was a very good game, well played and interesting. Waterman and Metz played the outstanding battle for the H. S. U. with Gyer and Green doing the outstanding work for the winners. The Ramblers were hampered by the injuries of two of their men. Tabor was out a lot of the season with an injured wrist, while French has been out the latter part of the season with a bad back.

The girls at the Newman Club gave a pajama party Friday evening in honor of Eudora Waldier. The evening was spent in dancing, and roasting marshmallows in the fireplace.

Quarter Ends; Students Home for Week-End

Examinations Wednesday and Thursday of this week mark the end of the winter quarter, which means a short vacation and, to most students, home. While the majority of students come from Northwest Missouri, scattered and more distant points are also represented. They come from South Houston, Texas; Baconsville, La.; Winona, Miss.; Thomasville and Columbus, Ga.; Shawnee and Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Fort Smith, Ark. Others are here from Laurel, Del.; Hubbard, Ohio; Berkley, Mich.; Mounds, Thayer, Springfield and Virden, Ill.; Oak Hill and Kensington, Kans. and Omaha, Nebr. They are from Bedford, Redding, Braddyville, Kellerton, Gravity, Lenox, Blockton, Blanchard, Creston, New Market, Conway, Essex, Shenandoah, Cambria, Imogene, Villard, Cain, Russell, College Springs, Maloy, Hubbard, Red Oak, Clearfield, Leon, Tabor, Hepburn, Farragut, Glenwood, Atlantic, Washington, Tahow, Winterset, Earlham, Hamburg, Sioux City, Lineville, Sharpsburg, Sidney, Carroll, Wiota.

About thirty Missouri Counties send students to the college here. Nodaway, in which the College is located, naturally boasts the most students. Missouri Counties listed are: Nodaway, Daviess, Buchanan, Atchison, Carroll, Clinton, De Kalb, Ray, Holt, Worth, Gentry, Andrew, Mercer, Platte, Henry, Jackson, Caldwell, Cape Girardeau, Clay, St. Louis, Livingston, Audrain, LaFayette, Sullivan, Grundy, Moniteau, Osage and St. Francois.

C.H.S. and M.H.S. to Debate Finals

In the semi-final tournament held for the North-Nodaway County section of the County Debate League, College High School and Maryville High School won the right to compete in the finals. The debates were held Thursday with Mary Belle Burch of the C. H. S., and H. M. Lyle of Parnell, serving as judges.

Sibyl West and Eddice Barber composed the Burlington Junction affirmative team, and Iola Graves and Ellafae Chambers composed the negative. Mary E. Price and Ruth Pfander were the C. H. S. affirmative team. Frank Strong and Harold Brueggeman composed the M. H. S. team. Parnell High School's negative team was Clara Cox and Cora Cos, and the affirmative team was Irene Hariker and Helen Lyle. Skidmore's negative team was Jimmie Parrish and Edward Teynolds.

GRADUATE IS FRENCH INTREPRETER

Miss Rose Graves, a graduate of the College, has accepted a position with the Direct-O-Graph Company of St. Petersburg, Fla., according to word received here. The firm is a French organization for which she acts as stenographer and interpreter.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Graves of Maryville, Miss Graves received a B. S. degree at the College in 1934 and an A. B. degree in 1935.

PIDDERS

A piddler, according to Webster, is one who acts in a trifling or petty way.

Perhaps he is the student, or college attender, who idles throughout the school quarter and then in a great panic wonders how he will "get by" the finals.

The piddler is the cheater in embryo. He is the "Joe College" or "Betty Coed" as portrayed in the comic strips. He is the one who must first light a cigarette, turn on the radio, adjust the blind, sharpen his pencil again, re-arrange the contents of his desk, and many other trifling actions when sitting down to study. While his intentions to study are the best, his puttering takes so much of his time that he takes two hours to finish a fifteen minute job. He is the inefficient playboy who is always so busy getting ready to go to work that he never finishes the work itself. He is the student who never knows what to do in the science laboratory and after discovering what to do and how to do it must first examine his neighbor's results, ask his neighbor's opinions, and ease his own doubts before actually beginning the experiment. He is often a highly intelligent person who could accomplish much in many fields, if he just ever "got around" to beginning the work. His piddling is a habit which he could rid himself of.

We piddlers of M. S. T. C. have reached the time when we make our quarterly resolution to quit our piddling—next quarter—and settle down to some honest work. We are like the New Year resolution addict. We make this resolution every quarter as the final exams approach and forget it immediately after we have taken them. However, we here and now resolve to keep this resolution next quarter—if we just ever get around to thinking of it.—D. K.

WE OFFER APPROVAL

Never one for handing out bouquets, what with our pep-squad critic and our Stroller, the MISSOURIAN pauses in its mission long enough this week to offer its very loudest approval to the student bodies of the College, the High School, the Grade School, and even the Kindergarten.

Perhaps it was the genius of Shapiro; or it might have been just good breeding; anyhow, the attentive silence at the right times, and the appreciation shown by the applause for the Little Philharmonic Orchestra last Thursday are something found only among the best of people.

While we are about it we want to express an appreciation felt by the student body, but too seldom expressed, for our hard-working Conservatory of Music faculty.

If one can listen to Rimsky-Korsakoff or Bizet with pleasure, it is probably because one has heard something of the kind before. Composed of musicians of a high degree of talent and technical excellence, the Conservatory faculty seldom fails to cooperate with any request for music either here at the school or elsewhere.

The College is fortunate in being able to offer students the talents of such a generous group. May these artists continue this vitally important work of education.

SPRING IS IN THE AIR

We heard a girl say the other day that she didn't want to take on too much extra-curricular work next quarter because she might be forced to miss some of the good times which are in store for all students during the spring.

The spring quarter, containing as it does the Scoop Dance, the fraternity and sorority formal, the Junior Prom, and we know not what other dances and functions, is a time when most everybody has a chance in the great social whirl. The difficulty with which the Senior Class casts and presents a play, and the desire of many students to take "snap" courses attests to the fact that for a good many neither the extra nor the curriculum work holds much lure.

Such an attitude can hardly give cause for too much alarm, however. We are beginning more to realize that the social whirl does have a value. We believe that especially in the spring there is much to be learned through brushing with one's fellows. Only the crustiest of persons are not stirred by the new birth which comes with the spring, only the most diligent of students can work a physics problem when music, moonlight, and magnolias fill the air.

All of which does not alter the fact that long and untiring effort is the road to academic success.

MORE ABOUT PEP

After returning from Warrensburg, it seems that several students in Northwest Missouri State Teachers college have discovered that the pep here is actually better than in many other schools in the conference.

Pep is something hard to keep at a high level. When we have a winning team we sometimes quit cheering because we get tired of winning; when we have a losing team it becomes difficult to put our heart in cheering.

Let's about face once and congratulate the student body on its pep. Perhaps it really is away the average.

A WAY OUT

You had your chance—did you take it? Did you study when you should have—or are you one of the many worrying today because they had so many other things to do?

We all have to worry during examinations, but the student who has used his or her time in study for the past three months is much better off than he who has depended on his ability to get by.

Under an honor system it would be considered the wrong thing to do if one tried to just get by. Perhaps we should have one

Dr. Mehus Publishes Peace Pact Article

Dr. O. Myking Mehus, head of the department of sociology in the College, is the author of the following article on the Paris Pact published in the February issue of School and Community Magazine:

Some teachers seem to have the idea that because wars are being waged in Asia and in Europe that we ought to forget about the Paris Peace Pact. This seems to me as ridiculous as to say we should quit believing in the wedding vows because there are some who break them with impunity.

As a matter of fact, since there are people who violate the marriage law, that is all the more reason why we should stress the sacredness of marriage; and since there are some nations who have violated the Paris Peace Pact, it is all the more reason why we should stress the Paris Peace Pact in teaching social science in the high schools of our state, for it is a well known fact that the Paris Peace Pact is still the basis of our foreign policy, as it has been the basis of our foreign policy for the past seven years.

We all remember that the Pact was signed first by fifteen of the leading nations, and since that time has been signed by practically every civilized nation in the world. There was no provision in the text of the treaty for its cancellation by any nation since it was intended to be a permanent obligation.

According to the Secretary of State, Cordell Hull, it is the basis of our American foreign policy. Therefore, we must continue to stress it in our social science teaching. It is not a "dead letter" by any means, and we must not let it become so.

The Pact does not enforce itself but can be enforced only as public opinion throughout the world sustains it. We can do much in the teaching in our high schools because the citizens of tomorrow are in our schoolroom today.

The Paris Peace Pact embodies the principles of life that we need to stress today as never before. We must realize that the principles of peace are more important than the principles of war and brute force. The Pact appeals to the highest and noblest in man and is the antithesis of the law of the tooth and claw which has ruled man in the past.

Social cooperation is the watch word today, not brutality and selfish self-interest. American people are peace-loving. We abhor war and everything that it stands for. We do not believe in the old slogan that "might makes right." We are interested in peaceful discussion, arbitration, and friendly cooperation as the methods whereby international disputes are to be solved.

The idea of the Paris Peace Pact has played a large part in stimulating peace and good will among the high schools of our land. In the past seven years, over 40,000 American teachers and principals in approximately 12,000 high schools have given courses or special instruction in classes on international relations, with the Paris Peace Pact as the center of the peace project. Over 75,000 copies of a text-book on the Pact have been published.

As chairman of the National Student Forum on the Paris Peace Pact for the State of Missouri, I am very much interested in seeing every high school in our state making a study of this pact during the second semester. Additional information in regard to the project can be secured by writing to the National Student Forum on the Paris Pact, 532 Seventeenth St. N. W., Washington, D. C., or inquiries may be sent direct to me at Maryville.

Studio Teachers to Present Program

The studio teachers of the Conservatory of Music will present the assembly program next Wednesday.

Marian J. Kerr, teacher of piano, Allene Fentress, teacher of violin and piano, and Herman N. Schuster, teacher of voice will be heard on the program.

This will be the second program presented by this group this year. The last appearance was greatly appreciated by the student body. Another pleasant hour is anticipated next Wednesday.

LECTURE POSTPONED

Because of the condition of the roads, Rev. Father Patrick Cummins of Conception Abbey, was unable to deliver the final February lecture Sunday afternoon in Residence Hall at the College as scheduled.

The lecture, "Dante and the Divine Comedy," will be given at some time in the future.

ADDRESSES S. S. CLUB

The Civil War and reconstruction days as portrayed in "Gone With the Wind", by Margaret Mitchell, was discussed by Mrs. George H. Colbert at a meeting of the Social Science Club at the College Thursday night.

Describing the horrors of war in general and especially those connected with Sherman's march through Georgia, Mrs. Colbert held her listeners' avid interest with her review.

EDUCATION PAYS

A young college graduate by the name of Pastor fought ten rounds last Friday night with the celebrated Joe Louis. He ran from the brown bomber and stayed the ten rounds. Evidently remembering some of the stuff he learned at school about "he who fights and runs away will live to fight another day." He got almost $20,000 for his fight. Again proving that education pays.—Holt County Democrat.

SPORT BRIEFS

By GLENN ROUSE

There is a mathematical possibility for either the Bearcats or Cape Girardeau to gain undisputed possession of first place in the MIAA basketball race; or for Cape and Maryville, Warrensburg and Maryville, or Cape and Warrensburg to pair off as co-champions. Even a three-way tie for the title is possible. However, the most probable order of finish is Warrensburg, Maryville, and Cape.

The Maryville High Spoofhounds, coached by Bill Smith, a former Bearcat, are undefeated this season and have the whole town talking about a state high school basketball championship. The Spoofhounds play Central High of St. Joseph on the college court tonight in one of their biggest tests of the season.

Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, the star pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, has started his annual noise campaign. Dizzy is talking a $50,000 contract for 1937. While Dean admits no one man is worth that much to a ball club as a player, Diz claims that as a showman, drawing card, and ball player combined he is worth the fifty grand and he won't take a cent less.

The Stroller

And again the Stroller changes hands—or washes its face—many criticisms have been offered this past quarter on this—the most read article in the paper. At first it was too adolescent—then it was smut—

In Baccaccio, it's frankness
In Rabelais, it's life
In a professor, it's clever
But in a college comic column, it's smut—

Maybe we have been misinformed but it seems Jack Wright has been seen with Rosylan Venrick seven times during the quarter—There once was a coed named Posie—

Who said to a student named Bright,

"If you kiss me of course,
You'll have to use force,
But thank Heaven you're stronger than I."

They tell me a certain married man in school is not henpecked but his wife makes him wear rubber soled shoes so he can't dance with girls at the dorm. After a lecture under Miss DeLuce a freshman asked Bud Green if Independence Hall really looked like the picture—Bud lives in Independence, Mo.

"I don't like her."
"Why?"
"Her necks dirty."
"Does her?"

We still maintain that Eve was the first Chicken that ever ruined a man's garden . . . While the cats away—I mean—Sin would be rosy if people weren't so nosie. Now the woman haters club can go to—well on the island of South Georgia there is only one woman listed among the 600 inhabitants. McMullin and Molitoris, that island is located in the South Atlantic Ocean.

A good many people seem to be happy so long as they have something to kick about—wonder what is in this Stroller so far they can kick about . . . The easiest road to wealth is to have a rich relative die and leave you a fortune . . . There are several men in school who think they can do anything, but I'll bet they never tried to slam a revolving door—did you Neil, Bob and Marion Rogers?

Maurine Lepley we are sorry to hear about your broken heart—but you know the heart is a convenient and elastic organ. It does almost everything. It sinks, it swells, it falls, it leaps, it stands still, it quivers, it gets into one's throat and it breaks, but we hope yours is not broken too bad; it will go on beating with more or less regularity just the same.

I stood up in Warrensburg in the haymow—how did you do—I know you stood up too.

Well spring is coming and in the spring a young man's fancy—Remember boys when you change girls—change your line—there are various ways of flattering, and of course, you must adopt your style to your subject.

She was only a feminine cheerleader, but she wasn't so bad in an arm-cheer either.—The motto of the Stroller—Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow for if you do you'll lose all the pleasure of anticipating it. And the anticipation is much more delightful than reality.

"There's enough of strife in the gayest of life,
To shadow the grim old earth;
So we'll laugh our way through another day
And drink to the God of Mirth."

A chorus, two glee clubs, and a girl's double trio are "going" organizations in the College High School but, as yet, there is no instrumental musical organization which is functioning. At 12:20 today all students of the College High School who can play an orchestral instrument are asked to attend a meeting in Room 205 for the purpose of organizing an orchestra. High School students who can not play but are willing to learn are invited to come. There will be no expense to those students who furnish their own instruments. Those who do not have an instrument can rent one from the college. There are many high schools in Northwest Missouri no larger than our own College High School which have fine instrumental organizations. It is hoped that our College High School students will respond to the opportunity which is now afforded them in this aspect of their musical training.

"Luckies have been my cigarette for five years now. I rate them a 4 star cigarette. They're always good to the throat, and taste so much better than other cigarettes that it seems to me this 'Toasting' process is a swell idea. Yes, a light smoke like Luckies rates aces high with both my throat and taste."

COLUMBIA PICTURE, "WHEN YOU'RE IN LOVE"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Grant verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

Bearcats Lose to Warrensburg

Troutwine tallied a free throw, and Workman made a basket to give the Mules a 7 to 0 lead. Hicks made a basket for the Bearcats. Keth hit from the field, and Howell made good on a charity toss. A fast break netted a basket for Schneider, and Troutwine got a tip-in. Howell, Brown, Zuchowski, and Green added 6 points to the Bearcat cause and the half ended with Maryville trailing 9 to 13.

Starting strong in the second period, Hicks, Brown, and Green produced 5 counters for the only Bearcat lead of the game. This lead proved short-lived and a Mule rally soon found the latter ahead 21 to 14.

Brown was fouled as he made his only basket and the free throw was good. Troutwine and Hicks exchanged free throws on a double foul. Workman went on a scoring spree, and with the assistance of Troutwine and Keth, the Mules soon held a commanding 33 to 18 advantage.

Shrout and Wagoner added 7 points and Workman sank another bucket. Sipes ended the Bearcat scoring with a two-pointer, and with the Bearcats rushing them, Keth and Troutwine added 6 points to the Mule score before the gun sounded.

Standing room was at a premium in the Warrensburg gym, with a crowd estimated at 1800 filling all available space. Several carloads of Bearcat fans attended the game.

Playing on Springfield's "cracker-box" court Saturday night, the Bearcats barely eked out a 27 to 25 decision over the Bears.

With Green and Zuchowski replacing Brown and Wagoner on the Maryville line-up, the two teams battled on even terms during the first half, with the Bearcats holding a 12 to 11 lead at rest time.

At the start of the second period the Green and White boys rolled up an 11 point advantage, but let down to find Springfield only two points behind as the game ended.

Sipes got 3 tip-ins and 2 charity tosses to lead the Maryville attack, and Howell followed closely with 3 counters from the field. Philbrick was the scoring ace for the Bears, hitting the hoop for 5 buckets. This lanky center is reported to be one of the fastest improving men of the conference.

Ability to hit free throws counted toward the Maryville victory. The Bearcats made 15 fouls while the Bears were making 9, but the Maryville boys only missed 2 tries and 9 of Springfield's attempts were no good. Each team sank 9 field goals.

The box scores:

President Hendricks On Senate Report

and patriotism of the teachers are of high order. The committee would condemn any idea of requiring of faculty members an oath of support to the state. The idea of radicalism appeared absurd to the committee. Faculty members of the teachers colleges were declared to be as patriotic and as safe as the Committee making the investigation.

A BOARD OF CONTROL

The Committee recommended a single Board of Control of all the teachers colleges of Illinois. It is declared that largely through the functioning of this single Board, the General Assembly is saved many direct approaches, and the presidents of the several schools are spared the necessity of competing with those engaged in cooperative work with them. The spirit of competition among the teachers colleges of Illinois is now changing into a type of cooperation, long needed and proving very useful to all concerned. Enhanced morale has resulted from the Board's wise allowance of variety in a pattern of uniformity and from its concern with security for the retiring members of the several staffs.

In conclusion, the Committee recommends that the several teachers colleges should be taken very seriously as representing the minimum provision for teacher training in the state. A silent vote of confidence was given the teachers colleges of Illinois.—The Warrensburg Student.

Faculty Members to Attend Meeting

Several members of the Teachers College faculty will attend the annual conference of the Progressive Education Association Thursday, Friday and Saturday in St. Louis.

Miss Chloe E. Millikan will appear on the program as a panel member; and Miss Blanche H. Dow will also address the group, speaking on "How Can We Attain Better Understanding of International Relations?"

Others who will attend the meeting are Miss Mary E. Keith, Miss Eileen Logan, Miss Margaret Sutton and Homer T. Phillips.

HEADS MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Price Doyle, who received his B. S. degree from the College in 1924, with a major in music, is now head of the department of music at the State Teachers College at Murry, Kentucky.
